

Non-Medical Volunteers: Quartermaster

The Quartermaster coordinates the moving of equipment and boxes from the United States to the host country and back again. S/he deals with customs agents, counting boxes and unpacking equipment on arrival and re-packing upon departure. The Quartermaster should be in excellent physical health, able to lift boxes that weigh 50lbs and have the stamina to handle the transport of boxes and medical cargo.